Roses, Thorns & Cultivating Beloved Community: Bending the Arc 6

*Beloved community is formed not by the eradication of difference but by its affirmation, by each of us claiming the identities and cultural legacies that shape who we are and how we live in the world.
-- Bell Hooks*

Do roses have thorns, or do thorns have roses? Whichever way we may be inclined to answer, what do those answers tell us about ourselves growing Beloved Community through the long-haul work of liberating love that calls us? As we celebrate River of Grass' Charter Sunday! we'll conclude this year's Bending the Arc series with a deeper look at how we got here, and where we go from here to keep bending the arc of the Universe toward justice in our time.

Come as you are to gather with us for this Sunday's love-streamed service, remembering only the medium is virtual; the connections, the love, the spirit are real. Following the service, we will share virtual Hospitality time with a live chat and small groups where we can relish each other's beautiful faces and voices together once again.

Follow the link below to join us in Zoom – or if you'd like, we'll be simulcasting on our Facebook page. Tune in there for the service, then log onto our Zoom link for hospitality time afterward.

We'll be watching for you!

This Sunday our children and youth will be honoring our Black UU Leaders by learning about our UU organizations that work to call out and challenge white supremacy - even in our own congregations. The work of BLUU (Black Lives of Unitarian Universalism) and DRUMM (Diverse Revolutionary UU Multicultural Ministries) help all of us in our work to Build the Beloved Community. Contact Karen Gonzalez at ReligiousEducator@RiverofGrassUU.org for links to join a class, or for more information about our Faith Development program.

New Members - River of Grass has had two recent New Member Ceremonies on December 20, 2020 and February 14, 2021. Over these two ceremonies we have welcomed in 8 new members to River of Grass UU Congregation:

David Biklen - Lives seasonally in Davie and resides in West Hartford, Connecticut with his wife Blanche Capilos. He has been attending River of Grass UU for about 4 years and participates in the choir, the social justice team, and the men's group. He especially appreciates the choir, members and friends of RofG he has met, the church's commitment to social justice, and Sunday services led by the Rev. Amy Carol Webb. David was raised in Ft. Madison, Iowa and has lived in New York, Virginia, and Illinois. He settled in Hartford, Connecticut and has spent most of his professional life working on law reform. He retired as executive director of the CT Law Revision Commission and remains a CT commissioner to the Uniform Law Commission. He has worked on law reform topics such as adoption, real estate, mental health, drug policy, and criminal justice. Today, he encourages the CT legislature to focus on racism and economic and educational injustices. He is a long-time member of Hartford's Immanuel Congregational Church, UCC, has been its moderator for several years, and now chairs the social justice and mission committee. He is a graduate of Monmouth College (IL) and the University of Virginia Law School.

Monique Dumaine - Originally from the New England area, Monique has traveled up and down the East Coast before settling in South Florida. As a lover of nature, animals, and music, she finds herself the most fulfilled on a long hike. Ever since she was a young girl, she was raised with the value of giving back to her community through service and advocacy initiatives and is looking forward to continuing that mission at River of Grass. In her free time, Monique enjoys taking photos, cooking interesting meals, and hanging out in mom & pop coffee shops.

Peter Fox - A licensed massage therapist and Reiki Master living in Sunrise. He studied energy healing and massage with a group of alternative healers and spiritual leaders in New York's Hudson Valley. Before moving to Florida in 2001, Peter spent several decades in New York, his hometown, as a newspaper editor, a bicycle touring company owner/operator, a middle-school science teacher and a stay-at-home dad. He's currently a board member of the Broward Folk Club and the City of Sunrise Leisure Services Advisory Board. In his "spare time," Peter enjoys painting, singing, running, and spending time communing with nature.

Pam Kelner - Born and raised in Miami Beach (she's a 1972 alum of Beach High, where she first discovered her lifelong passion for yoga), Pam is a Residential Realtor with Coldwell Banker as well as a Certified Negotiation Specialist. Known as a dedicated community activist, Pam is a passionate advocate for Recovery Unplugged, which embraces the positive power of music to overcome the demonic powers of addiction. She's a longtime board member of the Weston Democratic Club, the Davie-Cooper City Chamber of Commerce, the Davie Diversity Interfaith group, and a founding member of WINK, Women in Networking Know.

Jennifer Luciani - Raised in New Jersey and later moved to Philadelphia to pursue college and her career. Jennifer has a background in management, counseling and art therapy in for-profit and nonprofit mental health settings. While in Philadelphia, she was a member of a UU Congregation. Since relocating to South Florida, Jennifer has begun a new chapter with her husband and dog. She has sought out volunteer work and supports that share her values and passions. Jennifer has also enjoyed exploring the local parks and museums, vegetarian restaurants and is in love with the sunsets and way too fascinated by the iguanas. She is excited to become a part of the River of Grass Congregation and grateful to have learned of the congregation when the services became available on social media this past year.

Jennifer Migliori - A life-long learner and truth seeker who started her religious journey in the Catholic church. As a teenager and young adult, she joined an evangelical church, and then a Methodist church with her partner, Scott. In 2020, moved by injustice, she sought a spiritual community that acknowledged social inequities and discovered Unitarian Universalism and River of Grass. Excited to share the congregation's bent toward social justice with her children, Jennifer frequently attends virtual services and gatherings. She relishes opportunities to discuss new lessons and concepts with her partner and their children. Jennifer is a tax and estate planning attorney and a Miami native. She moved to Broward County in 2014 with Scott, whom she met at law school, and now calls Plantation her home. Jennifer enjoys attending community events, supporting LGBTQ+ initiatives, exercising and spending time with her children. She participates in the YUUnG adult group at River of Grass.

Scott Migliori - Raised in Northeastern Pennsylvania and holds a B.A. in English Literature from Bryn Mawr College. He met his wife, Jennifer, in law school at the University of Virginia and followed her even further south to Miami in 2013. After agreeing to a slight compromise northward, Scott and Jenn resettled in Broward, and currently live in Plantation with their two wonderful children. Scott is an attorney and trans advocate. He was born and raised in the Methodist tradition, but began seeking a new, LGBT-inclusive spiritual home to raise his children. Scott and Jennifer found the River of Grass during the pandemic of 2020 and are looking forward to eventually meeting everyone in person.

Myra Zaner - Born and bred in the Flatbush neighborhood of Brooklyn, NY, Myra is something of a free-spirited hippie at heart. (She actually lived in an urban commune on Manhattan's Upper West Side for a few years in the 60s!) She went on to live in Houston, TX for 32 years before settling in the Sunshine State in 2011. As a volunteer with AllFed, Feeding South Florida, and teaching conversational English to adults from around the world, Myra dedicates her life to meeting and helping people. She loves yoga, walking in the woods, and all things spiritual.

Building the World We Dream About is a Unitarian Universalist program that seeks to interrupt the workings of racism and transform how people from different racial/ethnic groups understand and relate to one another. It consists of 24 two-hour workshops, with Taking It Home activities, reflections, and readings to be done between workshops. The program creates opportunities for participants to practice dreaming our world otherwise, and then commit to new, intentional ways of being. As Unitarian Universalists, we hope developing antiracist, anti-oppressive, and multicultural habits and skills will lead us to build the multicultural world of the beloved community we dream about. Contact Karen Gonzalez at ReligiousEducator@RiverOfGrassUU.org for more information or to sign up for this transformational experience.

bUUKies Announce UUA Common Read Discussion - Feb 28th at 12:30 pm: Every year the UUA selects a book to be shared by all UU congregations. A "Common Read" invites participants to read and discuss the same book in a given period of time. A Common Read can build community in our congregations and our movement by giving diverse people a shared experience, shared language, and a basis for deep, meaningful conversations. The River of Grass conversation will be on Feb 28th at 12:30 pm.

This year's Common Read is Breathe: A Letter to My Sons by Imani Perry. The UUA says:

“Emotionally raw and deeply reflective, Imani Perry issues a challenge to society to see Black children as deserving of humanity. She admits fear and frustration for her African American sons in a society that is increasingly racist and at times seems irredeemable. However, as a mother, feminist, writer, and intellectual, Perry offers an unfettered expression of love—finding beauty and possibility in life—and she exhorts her children and their peers to find the courage to chart their own paths and find steady footing and inspiration in Black tradition. The New York Times calls Breathe “an elixir of history, ancestry and compassion, which, together, become instruction...a parent's unflinching demand, born of inherited trauma and love, for her children's right simply to be possible."

This book may be purchased in hardcover from inSpirit: The UU Book and Gift Shop. The e-book and audio book (CD or MP3) are available from Bookshop.org. Hardback, audio and e-books are also available at Amazon.com.

COVID-19 Response Update

Our River of Grass faithful is actively responding to COVID-19. All face-to-face gatherings of any kind are suspended or moved on-line, and we have left our building. Numerous meetings and gatherings have transitioned online via Zoom. Welcome to our new norm!

We are grateful that many many members and friends are in self-quarantine, doing their part to protect themselves as well as reduce the spread of the virus, and only venturing outside when absolutely necessary.

Our extended Caring Team has coordinated a 'network of contacting' to help ensure our community has communication and is cared for.... and our Covenant Groups are a large part of this.

There is deep gratitude for the way our community cares for each other, remains flexible, and is diligent in responding to this unprecedented situation!

Take a deep breath. Allow any feelings and thoughts to be as they are. Know you are supported. Stay safe!

Basic Protective Measures Against Coronavirus

Your leadership at River of Grass are taking every precaution against coronavirus here at River of Grass and in the wider community we share. River of Grass is adhering to the following recommendations from the World Health Organizations.

Stay aware of the latest information on the COVID-19 outbreak. Most people who become infected experience mild illness and recover, but it can be more severe for others. Be aware of those in our midst with compromised immune systems.

Take care of your health and protect others by doing the following:

1. Regularly and thoroughly CLEAN YOUR HANDS with an alcohol-based hand-rub or washing with soap and water, especially – after coughing/sneezing; when caring for the sick; before, during, and after you prepare food; before eating; after toilet use; when hands are visibly dirty – and when they are not; after handling animals or animal waste.
2. Maintain social distancing – 6 feet between yourself and anyone.
3. Even if well, try to maintain a distance of 6 feet from others and when greeting, instead of elbow and fist bumps (no handshakes or hugs), consider placing your hand over your heart as a gesture of welcome and hello.

4. Avoid touching eyes, nose, and mouth to avoid transfer of viruses from contaminated surfaces.
5. Practice respiratory hygiene: 1) Cough/sneeze into your elbow, 2) If you use tissues, dispose of them immediately, then clean your hands.
6. If you have fever, cough, and difficulty breathing, seek medical care promptly.
7. If you feel unwell, stay home, even with mild symptoms like headache and runny nose.
8. Stay informed, and follow any guidelines from your healthcare advisor.

How to cope with stress during this coronavirus outbreak:

1. It is normal to feel sad, stressed, confused, scared, or angry during any crisis.
2. Talk to people you trust, and contact your friends and family.
3. If you must stay home, maintain a healthy lifestyle with proper diet, sleep, exercise, and social contact with loved ones via email, phone, etc.
4. Avoid smoking or using alcohol and other drugs to deal with your emotions.
5. Get the facts from credible sources such as the Center for Disease Control, World Health Organization, or local/state health agencies.
6. Limit worry and agitation through lessening time you spend watching media and the internet.
7. Draw on coping skills that have helped you in the past.
8. If you feel overwhelmed, talk to a health worker or counsellor, and have a plan to seek help for physical and mental health needs if required.

Are you ready?

What is Building the World We Dream About?

Building the World We Dream About is a 24-workshop curriculum to support Unitarian Universalists and our congregations in building the multicultural Beloved Community we want to embody. It seeks to disrupt the workings of racism and transform how we relate across racial, ethnic, and cultural differences, in our congregations and beyond. Participants develop their anti-racist, anti-oppressive, and multicultural habits and skills and prepare to nurture a multiculturally competent, actively anti-racist congregation.

Why is it so long?

The program's education process depends on personal reflection and narrative and invites deep listening, sharing, and reflection. Participants practice skills for cross-cultural dialogue and authentic cross-cultural partnering, primarily through sharing formative stories about racial, ethnic, and cultural identity. The first 13 workshops elicit the voices of people in the group and bring in others' personal narratives as readings and video clips. The final 11 workshops invite participants to interact with people of diverse identities and backgrounds outside the workshop group, both in and beyond the congregation.

Can it be shortened or adapted?

An intentional, step-by-step process distinguishes this resource from other faith development programs from Tapestry of Faith; thus, using workshops selectively is not recommended. Explore creative calendaring rather than shortening the series. Workshop 13 offers a natural "break" after a concluding worship celebration, and the program can easily be done over the course of two years. Similarly, we recommend you adapt only with great care. Be sure to keep these core elements: inclusion of varied perspectives, opportunities for engagement and deep reflection, and opportunities to practice and integrate newly developed multicultural competencies.

What if we cannot find the ideal facilitators?

We recommend that a two-person team from your congregation facilitate the program. Both will need good facilitation skills and be well versed in anti-racism, anti-oppression, and multiculturalism. Ideally, one facilitator will identify as white and the other as a person from a group marginalized by race, ethnicity, and/or culture. However, a team of two experienced white facilitators from your congregation with good anti-racism, anti-oppression, and multiculturalism competency can ably lead the program. Encourage such a team to seek help from peers using this program in other congregations and from Alex Kapitan, Congregational Justice Administrator for the UUA (akapitan@uua.org).

What if our congregation does not seem racially, ethnically, and/or culturally diverse?

Building the World We Dream About is designed to meet our congregations where each is, in terms of its multicultural make-up. Participants will still benefit from sharing their individual stories and listening to others, including the narratives provided in the curriculum. Facilitators of such a group might take special care to "widen the net" both within and outside the congregation to ensure participants encounter as many diverse voices as possible, at points where the curriculum provides such opportunities. Also, facilitators might seek further guidance, before beginning the program, from the UUA's Alex Kapitan.

How can we prepare to engage with the program?

It is highly recommended that congregations lay strong groundwork in preparation for engaging with this program—with proper preparation the returns are far greater. It is important to have more than one person leading the initiative; ideally, congregational leaders are on board, including the senior minister and the Director of Religious Education. Consider doing a series of events leading up to the start of the program, and reaching people in diverse and creative ways that speak to different learning styles. Services, panel discussions, guest preachers, a video series with follow-up discussions, and book discussions are some possibilities. For congregations that want an energizing introduction to the program, introductory workshops are now available.

Check out www.uua.org/multicultural for more, or contact Alex Kapitan at akapitan@uua.org.
