

COME JOIN US IN EAST BRUNSWICK, NEW JERSEY!

The Unitarian Society, A Unitarian Universalist Congregation

August 22, 2021 at 10:30 am

“What Future Are You Preparing For?”

We shall be visiting The Unitarian Society of East Brunswick on Sunday, August 22nd, at 10:30. Please gather at 10:15 to fill out the short questionnaire that admits you to the service. Click on Zoom Room in the link below!

We will meet the Rev. Karen G. Johnston who will be delivering the message! Please introduce yourselves in the Chat during our time together.

What Future Are You Preparing For?

Each season brings more devastating news of the planet’s imbalance and the climate crisis in our midst. It begs the question: what future are we preparing for? Will we follow the destructive instructions being fed to us, with a few resourced people escaping to space? Or will we make a new instruction that heals harm and feeds collective liberation? Reverend Karen is back in the virtual pulpit. Nicholas Place, our Music Director, is back from his summer break. We welcome several UU sibling congregations visiting us virtually!

We continue the Summer Series of River of Grass Classics while Rev. Amy Carol Webb is enjoying rest and renewal for a few more weeks. There will be two more Sundays to explore a new service and one more opportunity for us to join another congregation, The Unitarian Society in East Brunswick this Sunday, Aug 22nd. Please check the full schedule on the River of Grass website for the link to this service.
